Librarians selected these titles because they reinforce what kindergarteners already know and what they will learn in the year ahead.

Once you have read a title from the list, talk with your child about what happened in the story and what he or she thought of the book. Let your child rank the books by drawing one of the faces below next to the book's title:

- 😊 "I really like this book. Let's read it again.
- 😐 "The book is okay."
- ☹️ "I didn't like this book very much. I like other books better.

Ranking the books will help your child develop critical thinking skills, which are crucial to reading and learning success.

This list was developed by the West Bloomfield Township Public Library, West Bloomfield, MI as part of its Grow Up Reading™ early literacy initiative.
